

Make the right technology bet before you spend.

Independent guidance for growing companies deciding what technology to choose, where AI can help, and how to adopt for a truly useful investment.

THE VALUE

Move from pressure and uncertainty to a clear, defensible next move — without burning money or falling behind.

CHOOSE THE TYPE OF CLARITY YOU NEED

Tech Scan

See where technology could create meaningful advantage and where the latest tool is simply noise.

You receive: a clear view of what deserves attention now, next, or not at all.

Bet Brief

Compare a shortlist before you commit, with the tradeoffs translated into language leaders can use.

You receive: a concise recommendation with rationale, risks, & next moves.

Use-Case Map

Connect your business goals to realistic ways AI or technology could help your people do better work.

You receive: prioritized opportunities, accurate value, & realistic starting points.

What working together looks like

› You bring the question

Share the decision, shortlist, or concern that your company may be falling behind.

› We learn the context

We speak with the right leaders, review relevant materials, and clarify what success looks like.

› We test the options

We challenge assumptions, compare choices, and separate useful technology from hype.

› You leave with direction

We present the recommendation in plain English and help your team understand the next move.

Designed to be focused, useful and easy to engage

Client interaction

A small number of purposeful working sessions, not a calendar full of status meetings.

Time involved

The scope is sized to the decision. Your team's time commitment is agreed before work begins.

Tools

Your existing documents and technology, structured comparison frameworks, and fit-for-purpose AI research tools.

Delivery

Clear working materials, a decision-ready recommendation, and a live readout for your stakeholders.

A strong fit for

- › Companies up to 100 employees
- › An IT resource or provider, but no independent strategic technology guide
- › Leaders under pressure to use AI wisely
- › Teams with no appetite for expensive guesswork

What the work feels like day to day

Calm, collaborative, and low-drama. You work through real questions in plain English while the analysis happens between sessions. The engagement stays close to the decision in front of you — not an oversized transformation program.

Direct access to the founder

You work directly with the founder: a clear communicator and creative problem-solver who can examine the choice from multiple angles, ask the uncomfortable question, and make complex technology understandable.

Before you buy the next thing, make sure it is the right thing.

Start with a Tech Scan, Bet Brief, or Use-Case Map — or bring the question to us for a tailored path.
